Society Insurance Receives Applied IVANS Interface Partner Award

Award recognizes Society for its commitment to insurance automation

FOND DU LAC, Wis. (October 13, 2013) — Society Insurance recently received a 2013 Applied IVANS Interface Partner Award from Applied Systems at the TENCon 2013 Conference at the Aria Resort in Las Vegas.

The Interface Partner Award, which Society also received in 2012, honors the company for its commitment to making doing business easier for agents by advancing insurance automation, including download performance, real-time inquiry and real-time rating.

“We place the highest priority on giving our agents every possible tool to make their jobs easier and help them be more efficient,” said Tom Konop, vice president of information systems at Society. “Receiving this award means we’re on the right path, and we’re continuing to make improvements every day. Our upcoming rollout of the Cover-All policy administration system will be yet another step that will make doing business with Society easier.”
