Society Insurance Earns Two Wellness Awards

FOND DU LAC, Wis. (June 17, 2014) — Society Insurance recently received two awards recognizing the company's commitment to the health and well-being of its employees through a variety of wellness programming.

Society was recognized with both a Gold Well Workplace Award from the Wellness Council of America and an Alla tua Salute! (meaning "To Your Health!" in Italian) award by New North B2B magazine.

In both cases, Society was recognized for a high quality of wellness programming ranging from weight management programs, on-site community-supported agriculture drops and salad bars to free health club memberships and a program to reimburse registration fees for runs, walks and other organized events involving exercise.

"It's really all thanks to our employees," said Vice President of Human Resources Amy Collett. "They're the ones who are interested in and dedicated to wellness, and they're really the ones that make the programs that we design work. Of course, having a dedicated wellness committee in place and receiving such great support from our senior executives is huge, but it still comes down to our employees taking an interest in their own health and well-being."
